METHODOLOGY:

The research method followed here is empirical research. A total of 200 samples have been taken out of which is taken through convenient sampling. The sample frame taken by the researcher is public areas and bus stands. The independent variable taken here is age, income, Education qualification and occupation. The dependent variables are whether child prostitution is considered as a culture in a box, which factors that affect the children to involve in child prostitution, Child prostitution causes greater impact on the society. The statistical tool used by the researcher is correlational analysis and graphical representation

LIMITATION:

The major limitation of my study is the sample frame. The sample frame in bus stand and local areas have no root for child prostitution. It is also one of the major drawbacks. The restrictive area of sample size is also another major drawback. The Physical factors are the most impactful and a major factor limiting the study.

CONCLUSION:

From all the analysis part from the research it's found that the kid prostitution may be a global problem. Minor girls are affected in child prostitution. Children physical and psychological condition was very bad. Every a part of the planet is suffering from child prostitution. The country which give hand to child prostitution will get curse. Here my suggestion is that government should get severe action to destroy child prostitution.
